SERVICES

Globibo was responsible for the provision of handheld microphones with digital mixers, which were seamlessly integrated with the venue's audio system. Additionally, equipment transport, electricity offset, and the presence of a dedicated standby technician were part of the service package.

SETUP

- The event took place onsite at a beautiful park venue in Singapore. Globibo's experienced team meticulously planned and executed the setup, ensuring all technical aspects and logistics were in place.

EQUIPMENT

Considering the in-built equipment of the venue, Globibo reviewed which items were needed and which items might not be state-of-the-art. Based on experience using in-house AV systems, very often key components need to be changed.

- 12 Conferences handheld mics (8 core requirement, 2 spares, 2 as potential replacement of in-house microphones).
- Digital Audio Mixer
- Cabling for integration with in-house AV system, including DI boxes.
- Equipment Transport and Electricity offset.

The in-house AV system used at the venue was rather outdated. On the other hand, parts of the equipment had to be used (e.g. 2 additional handheld microphones). The old microphones created some unpleasant feedback noise, especially when used with higher volume.

Globibo delivered exceptional audio system services for a successful team-building event hosted by a global manufacturing powerhouse. With a focus on enhancing employee collaboration and fostering a positive work environment, Globibo provided top-of-the-line audio equipment and seamless integration with the venue's systems. The event featured engaging activities, workshops, and interactive sessions that promoted teamwork, communication, and problem-solving skills.
